Feastday of the Dormition of the Theotokos, August 15

Lord, You know that men are flesh and blood; forgive them their sins and pour out Your blessing on all. — St. Haralambos

August Holy Days

The Orthodox Christian Church celebrates two major feast-days during the month of August. These are the Transfiguration of Christ on Aug. 6, and the Dormition of the Theotokos on Aug. 15.

The Transfiguration of Christ, found in chapter 17 of Saint Matthew's gospel, remembers the time when Jesus began to shine brighter than the sun, and was divinely transfigured upon Mount Tabor witnessed by the disciples Peter, James and John. Divine Liturgy is celebrated at 9 am on Monday, Aug. 6.

The written account of the feast of the Dormition of the Theotokos is not found in the New Testament but in another ancient Christian text known as the Proto-Evangelion of Saint James. The disciples were called just prior to Mary's passing, and all mourned her funeral and burial, except for the apostle Thomas, who was not there. When Thomas came three days after her burial, he begged to see her one final time. Upon opening the tomb, the body was not there. Her bodily assumption into heaven was confirmed by the message of an angel, and by her appearance to the apostles.

A 14-day fast is called by the Orthodox Church, beginning on August 1st until the 15th. During the first two weeks of August, the Office of Supplication to the Theotokos will be prayed on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Please note that this year, only the Wednesday services will be at 7 pm, the Monday and Friday services will begin at 4 pm. (Please see the Community Calendar.)

Perryville Prison Crochet Ministry

Thank you to all who are continuing to donate yarn for the Perryville Prison Crochet Ministry! The women depend on our donations to continue their ministry. Our parish has become their sponsor, and they are very grateful for giving them the materials to help put their creative skills and talents to good use.

The Crochet Ministry at Perryville Prison in Goodyear has grown considerably in the past six months. Each month more and more inmates are signing up to learn a new skill and contribute to making baby blankets, toys, hats and slippers. Each month we collect the finished items and they are given to Phoenix Children's Hospital and Maggie's House to benefit the children and families they serve.

Please help this ministry by donating yarn, either leftovers from finished projects, or by purchasing new yarn from a local craft store. All donated yarn is delivered to the prison once a month. Yarn donations can be dropped off Monday-Friday 10 am – 3 pm, or after Sunday services. The donation box is in the observation area where refreshments are served on Sunday morning.

Adults Set the Example for Children

“Aw mom, do we have to go to Church today?” Is there a mom out there who hasn’t had this question posed to her at some time? For parents of young children who have yet to be asked, wait; it won’t be too long. I would enjoy sitting down, parent to parent, and hear some of the responses that have been made over the years. Because, let’s face it, after a busy week and a late Saturday night, is it just the children who question the need to get up, get dressed, get in the car, and get to Church on Sunday mornings?

Have you heard this one? “Show me in the Bible where it says we need to go to Church on Sunday mornings!” Can you see the triumphant look of a child (or adult, for that matter) who uses this as a defense for sleeping in on Sundays? What message does this give their children?

And now as the new school year is here, what about getting children up for school during the week? Do parents approach this any differently? In most homes, there is no question, barring an illness, about getting their children up for school each morning, and on time. It’s expected, it’s required: no “ifs,” “ands” or “buts!”

When parents accept their role and behave as parents, they set the example in the family for their children to follow whether it’s getting up for school on weekdays, or getting up for Church on Sunday mornings. If/when complaints arise, they should be addressed calmly and lovingly, letting children know that Sunday mornings are devoted to worshiping God. Over time, when they see the importance their parents place on Sunday mornings, children will follow the routine, just as they do during the week for school.

Religious Education - for our youth as well as adults - is an important discipline at St. Haralambos Church. Children depend on the support of their parents to bring them to Church on Sundays, to enroll them in Sunday School classes, to participate in Youth Group events and activities. The goal of our parish youth programs is to help our young people live their Orthodox Christian Faith with activities that involve the four pillars of youth ministry: Worship, Witness, Service and Fellowship.

Parents, your children need your support so they can benefit from the programs and activities. They will follow the example you set for them. If it is a priority for you, it will become a priority for them.

Adult Education is no less important! Please see the announcement about The Way, a 12-week adult education series beginning Tuesday, Sep. 18 at 6 pm in the Fellowship room. Topics range from “Search for Faith,” to “What on earth is the Church?” The class presents the development of Christian thought and doctrine from its beginnings, includes dinner, discussion groups, and ends with a Question and Answer session. Pre-registration is required (page 8).

Adults set examples for their children, who in most cases, are much more perceptive than we give them credit for. They see, hear and observe our words and actions. Parents are children’s primary teachers, and not just for academics, but also in matters of behavior, affection and religious faith. If parents wonder why their children are not interested in regular Sunday worship, could it be because of the example set by their parents?

Is the Church, established by the life, death and resurrection of Christ our Lord and Savior, seen as a

Stewardship

Are you a Steward of Saint Haralambos Church?

The goal for 2018 is to have all parish families become Good Stewards of Saint Haralambos Church. This means returning a completed 2018 Stewardship brochure, making sure your family information is correct, making a financial pledge for the year, and becoming involved in parish ministries.

When we recognize that everything we have: health, wealth, time and talents, are all gifts from God, there should be no hesitation in using those gifts to build up

His Church and to glorify His name. To exercise good stewardship is to use God's gifts in ways that glorify Him and build up His Church. This means using our gifts for the benefit of others, giving a portion of our time and treasure for the strengthening of the Church. When a person realizes his dependency on God's blessings, sharing them with others and through His Church is a very natural and joyful response.

If needed, new/blank Stewardship brochures are available on Sundays.

Book Sale

The 2nd Annual Used-Book Sale will be taking place at our church during the months of June – August. There is a large selection of used books from a variety of topics, including books on Orthodox Christianity, as well as many books in Greek.

Books may be purchased Mon–Fri, 10 am to 3 pm or Sunday after services.

Bible Study

Ready to take a journey into the Old Testament and examine the life of a man who is described as "...a man after God's own heart"? An introductory excerpt from Beth Moore, a secondary author we'll be using states that, "The journey has all the romance, mystery, intrigue, love, betrayal, and majesty of the greatest epic. As you read, I believe your spirit will soar and your heart will break. You will climb to the heights of the most noble emotions and behavior, and you will plummet with us to the depths of our sin nature. Pack your backpack, throw in a jar of peanut butter, and let's go."

This is your invitation to join us on the journey because there's always room for one more! Bible study resumes Tuesday, Sep. 4, at 10 am in the conference room. Everyone is welcome! Oh, did I say who that particular man was that had a heart like God's? Aw, you probably already know anyway!

Clergy Column

fundamental part or an extension of our home life? What place does Christ and His Church occupy in our lives?

The answer to these questions are not only different from family to family, but also change throughout a person's life. But it is with great confidence that I say the more we educate ourselves on the history of Christ and the Church, the sooner we are faced with having to give an answer to the above questions. The more we know, the more that knowledge requires us to make a decision: either to accept or reject, to follow or disregard, but no longer to remain ambivalent or indifferent.

What example was set by your parents and grandparents? What example are you setting for your children and grandchildren? As long as there is air in our lungs and a beating heart in our chest, we can set an example by humbly turning our hearts and minds to Christ, His Church, which are always welcoming to the enquiring soul in search of its creator and Savior.
